The history of the internet is filled with failed websites, but these ones never really stood a chance.

Includes tips on getting in front of a grounder while wearing a burqa, a demonstration showing that "stealing" second base doesn't mean we cut off your hands, and an explanation from Hall of Famer George Brett regarding how pine tar is not a sexual lotion. (Mike)

—fishnets.net: Look, we don't sell fishing nets or fishnet stockings. This is the personal website of F.I. Shnets, dammit! (Matt)
