

Additional Movies in the Works That Will Feature a U.S. President

by Baron von Funny

This week saw the opening of White House Down, a movie about a fictional assault on the White House that features Jamie Foxx as a gun-toting U.S. President. This comes on the heels of 2012 releases Hyde Park on the Hudson, Lincoln, and Abraham Lincoln: Vampire Hunter, the March release of Olympus Has Fallen (which was also about a takeover of the White House), and the news that there will be a sequel to Independence Day, which also had a fictional President as a significant character, coming in 2015. And the Presidential movies won't stop there...
